

Houseproud helps Hilda in Sittingbourne

Mayor of Swale, Cllr John Morris, cuts the ribbon at Hilda and Tony's new home in Sittingbourne. Hilda's neice, Irene Davidson, wanted Hilda and her son, Tony, to be nearer to her. So Irene and Hilda contacted a local builder who drew up plans to extend Irene's bungalow. Susan Hughes of Swale Staying Put coordinated the works and the Home Improvement Trust provided access for a loan using Hilda's existing house as security.
